No 1

Geological Society Engineering Group Working Party Report: Tropical Residual Soils	1
--	---

No 2

J. H. ATKINSON, J. A. CHARLES & H. K. MHACH: Examination of erosion resistance of clays in embankment dams	103
A. DOBINSON & D. M. McCANN: Application of marine seismic surveying methods to engineering geological studies in the near-shore environment	109
A. MARS LAND, M. LOVE, T. LOKEN & T. LUNNE: The use of soil fabric studies in evaluating the strengths of clays in a North Sea site investigation	125
P. M. VARLEY: Susceptibility of Coal Measures mudstone to slurring during tunnelling	147
P. HOWSAM & R. HOLLAMBY: Drilling fluid invasion and permeability impairment in granular formations	161
W. POWRIE & T. O. L. ROBERTS: Field trial of an ejector well dewatering system at Conwy, North Wales	169
J. C. BULLAS: Technical Note: Modification of the formula used in the determination of the ten per cent fines value of aggregate	187
Meeting Report	189
Book Review	190

No 3

Photographic Feature: Port Solent Marina, Portsmouth, UK	191
W. P. ASPINALL, B. O. SKIPP, & M. E. A. RITCHIE: Microtremor networks and seismic hazard assessment in the UK	193
B. E. BROSTER & I. G. BRUCE: A site selection case study using terrain analysis in conjunction with an evaluation matrix	209
N. R. GOULTY, J. S. THATCHER, M. J. FINDLAY, J. E. KRAGH & P. D. JACKSON: Experimental investigation of crosshole seismic techniques for shallow coal exploration	217

T. R. W. HAWKINS & D. S. CHADHA: Locating the Sherwood Sandstone aquifer with the aid of resistivity surveying in the Vale of York	229
A. ORHAN EROL & A. DHOWIAN: Swell behaviour of arid climate shales from Saudi Arabia	243
P. K. BISHOP, M. W. BURSTON, D. N. LERNER & P. R. EASTWOOD: Soil gas surveying of chlorinated solvents in relation to groundwater pollution studies	255
R. HERBERT: Technical Note: Interpreting recovery data from pumping tests	267
D. HOSSEIN & K. M. ALI: Technical Note: Mackintosh-vs-vane estimation of undrained shear strength correlation for a Sabhka Clay of Saudi Arabia	269
Book Reviews	273

No 4

Editorial	277
Photographic Feature: Channel Tunnel: UK undersea crossover	279
K. M. CLAYTON: Sea-level rise and coastal defenses in the UK	283
A. W. MALONE: Geotechnical phenomena associated with piling in Hong Kong	289
E. KARL SAUER, L. F. GAREAU & E. A. CHRISTIANSEN: Softening of overconsolidated Cretaceous clays by glacial erosion	307
J. J. McDONNELL: The influence of macropores on debris flow initiation	325
R. KENNY: Hydrogeomorphic flood hazard evaluation for semi-arid environments	333
I. A. AL-RIFAII: Land subsidence in the Al-Dahr residential area in Kuwait: a case history study	337
L. R. DAVISON & J. H. ATKINSON: Continuous loading oedometer testing of soils	347
H. A. AL-SANAD, F. M. SHAQOUR, S. R. HENCHER & A. C. LUMSDEN: The influence of changing groundwater levels on the geotechnical behaviour of desert sands	357
K. PYE & J. A. MILLER: Chemical and biochemical weathering of pyritic mudrocks in a shale embankment	365
A. B. HAWKINS & S. L. S. WILSON: Technical Note: Sulphate increase in laboratory prepared samples	383
J. N. HUTCHINSON & A. THOMAS-BETTS: Technical Note: Extent of permafrost in southern Britain in relation to geothermal flux	387
Book Reviews	391
Indexes	393
